 Reason for cross-listing: Click here to enter text.

 B. If you are mirroring a Non-Credit course with a Credit course- please list Credit course here:

5. Justification of recommendation for new course: How was the need for this course identified? How will this course meet student needs in ways that currently approved courses (including those from other departments) do not?

In our Phil degree program, we have offered Phil 12 (i.e. formal logic) for many years. Informal logic, though, is more popular generally (i.e. it is the basis of most reasoning), as a course, and is quite important in good persuasive writing. To address this lacuna in our program (i.e. both in terms of completeness of the program and in terms of transferability), and to meet student need to both reason and write better, we hope to offer Critical Thinking and Writing, which is based on the many rules of informal logic.

Contact information for Program Initiator: Farida Gabdrakhmanova fgabdrakhmanova@saddleback.edu 949.582.4615 e. Proposed Pathway for new program: Arts, Media, and Design f. Summary description of the new program: As a National Kitchen and Bath Association (NKBA) Affiliated Program, the Kitchen and Bath Design certificate provides students with specialized skills for careers in this dynamic and growing industry. The program supports preparation for industry certifications, providing a valuable credential in the field. Students learn to create functional, aesthetically pleasing spaces by applying industry guidelines, space planning, design principles, and project management. The curriculum emphasizes technical proficiency in drafting, visualization, sustainable practices, and adherence to NKBA standards. Graduates may pursue entry-level positions such as kitchen and bath design assistants, sales associates, showroom consultants, or project coordinators. Courses in the program may also be applied toward the AS degree in Interior Design and related certificates, offering pathways for career and educational advancement.
2	g. Brief Description of how the idea for the new program came about: The idea for the Kitchen and Bath Design certificate stems from the growing recognition of kitchen and bath design as a specialized field within the interior design industry. Advisory Board insights and industry trends show a strong need for professionals skilled in this niche, particularly those knowledgeable in NKBA standards. This program also responds to the increasing interest among students and professionals seeking career opportunities and certifications, providing them with the expertise to excel in this dynamic and profitable design specialty. h.
